Summary

Main Features

Note

Labour Force, Australia, Detailed, Quarterly (6291.0.55.003) will include six new datacubes. The new datacubes will contain data classified by the new industry classification (ANZSIC 2006) and the new occupation classification (ANZSCO). The new datacubes will complement the existing product set.

Please Note: This new product comprises the quarterly series previously released under Labour Force, Australia, Detailed - Electronic Delivery (cat. no. 6291.0.55.001)

Data from the monthly Labour Force Survey are released in two stages. The Labour Force, Australia, Detailed - Electronic Delivery (cat. no. 6291.0.55.001) and Labour Force, Australia, Detailed, Quarterly (cat. no. 6291.0.55.003) are part of the second release, and include detailed data not contained in the Labour Force, Australia (cat. no. 6202.0) product set, which is released one week earlier.

The Labour Force, Australia, Detailed - Electronic Delivery (cat. no. 6291.0.55.001) is released monthly. Labour Force, Australia, Detailed, Quarterly (cat. no. 6291.0.55.003) includes data only collected in February, May, August and November (including industry and occupation).

Since these products are based on the same data as the Labour Force, Australia (cat. no. 6202.0) publication, the 6202.0 Labour Force, Australia Main Features are relevant to both releases.

About this Release

A range of quarterly Excel spreadsheets and SuperTABLE datacubes. The spreadsheets contain broad level data covering all the major items of the Labour Force Survey in time series format, including seasonally adjusted and trend estimates. The datacubes contain more detailed and cross classified original data than the spreadsheets.

The ABS has introduced six new datacubes (listed below) as part of the product set Labour Force, Australia, Detailed, Quarterly (cat. no. 6291.0.55.003). The industry and occupation classifications used in these new datacubes differs from the classifications used in the existing datacubes. The existing datacubes use the 1993 version of the Australian and New Zealand Standard Industrial Classification (ANZSIC) and the second edition of the Australian Standard Classification of Occupations (ASCO). These classifications have since been revised. The industry classification used in the new datacubes is the 2006 version of ANZSIC and the occupation classification used is the Australian and New Zealand Standard Classification of Occupation (ANZSCO). These revisions to the classifications were made to provide more contemporary classifications which take into account issues such as changes in the structure and composition of the economy, changing user demands and compatibility with major international classification standards.

The datacubes using the ANZSIC 2006 and ANZSCO classifications contain quarterly estimates from August 2006, the first month these classifications were used in the Labour Force Survey (LFS). All LFS products which use the ANZSIC 1993 and ASCO second edition classifications will continue to be released until November 2008, after which only estimates using the new classifications will be available.

For more information on the revised industry classification please refer to Australian and New Zealand Standard Industrial Classification (ANZSIC), 2006 (cat. no. 1292.0). For more information on the revised occupation classification please refer to ANZSCO - Australian and New Zealand Standard Classification of Occupations, First Edition, 2006 (cat. no. 1220.0).
